Complete Personal Summary

of

Oriental University

Being Oriental University Bulletin, Vol. XIII, Nos. 1-4
A Quarterly published by Oriental University, 30 cents a year.

Oriental University is a member of the Association of American Colleges having 50 universities and 154 colleges, and it has 17 branch schools and affiliated institutions and 10 branch societies and affiliated associations of its own besides.

Oriental University is incorporated in the District of Columbia and Virginia.

It is a Modern, Advanced, Internationalistic, Non-sectarian, Independent, Co-educational, and Truly Educational University for Undergraduates and Graduates, teaching in Residence and by Correspondence, requiring 16 units for entrance to its Junior courses.

Preparatory courses for entrance upon Oriental University courses may be taken at its branch schools and affiliated institutions, and non-residents may take final examinations before the University's foreign non-resident examining professors. Dissertations may be written in English or German, and if necessary, in French.

Gift
Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Oriental University is not responsible for any money not paid directly to the University. No representative is authorized to charge more than the fees mentioned in the catalog, but branch schools and affiliated institutions as well as non-resident professors of the University may charge extra for special instruction and assistance given, in accordance with mutual agreements with students.

Telegraphic address: "Hollorient, Washington, D. C."

Money may be sent per telegram. No telegram will be answered if the sender has no sufficient credit with the University office. No diploma or certificate will be delivered before all fees have been paid. Money paid on courses will not be returned if study is discontinued for any reason whatsoever.

PUBLISHER WANTED.

Who will publish the "THEOMONISTIC BIBLE," "THEOMONISTIC LYRICS," and "THEOMONISTIC CALENDAR" on own account and a royalty basis? There will be an ever-increasing good profit in the publishing of these official publications of the Universal Theomonistic Association, as the number of Theomonists is bound to increase as soon as these publications are put on the market. After publication, the right for translations will also be for sale. This is an excellent chance for an enterprising publisher who has modern printing appliances, such as linotype machines, cylinder press, bookbinding, etc. We are sure that all friends of the U. T. A. and the Oriental University will buy these publications and will advertise them by speaking about them to others. Write at once to President Holler of the Oriental University for proper arrangements and terms.
